

we didn't build a wellness brand.
we built the operating system for human flourishing.

HHT is a behavioral intelligence venture ecosystem — designing spaces, rituals, communities, and tools that make conscious living the natural default, not the effortful exception.

act I - the problem

$1.31T mental wellness market by 2027

6x growth in meditation app users (5 years)

#1 cause of disability globally: depression & anxiety (WHO)

71% of consumers prefer brands aligned with their personal values

"this isn't a knowledge problem — it's a design problem. BI designs the conditions in which wiser, more conscious choices arise naturally, without force or willpower."

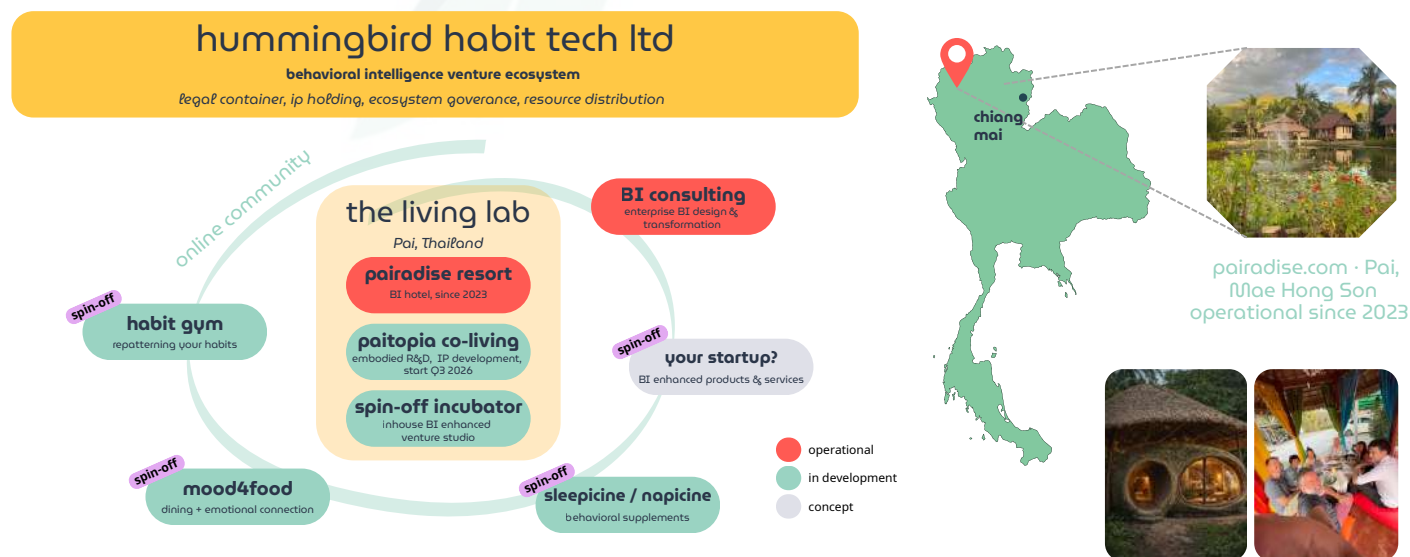

act II - behavioral intelligence

Behavioral Intelligence is not a branch of psychology, a wellness philosophy, or a productivity system. It is an integrated methodology — drawing from four distinct fields of human knowledge — that translates scientific understanding of behavior into the environments, rituals, and systems that make flourishing the natural choice.

The core premise: we don't rely on personal discipline or motivation for change. Instead, we focus on space (physical/digital), systems (biological/social), and structures (individual/organizational) — designing the conditions in which wiser, more loving, more conscious choices arise naturally, without force or willpower.

act III - The Ecosystem

Every venture strengthens every other. The IP compounds across all simultaneously. Profit, ownership and governance are shared. When one thrives, all benefit. This is the closest to how an ecosystem in nature works.

the Living Lab at the core of the ecosystem

living proof

2+ years of real behavioral data from real people in real conditions. The model works — and the reviews prove it.

R&D and IP

Rituals and protocols developed at Paradise flow into every HHT venture and consulting engagement.

human touch point

Those who practice here become HHT's most aligned coaches, collaborators, and future steward owners.

act IV - membership: four tiers, one journey

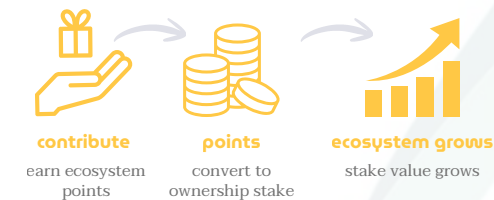

act V - revenue architecture

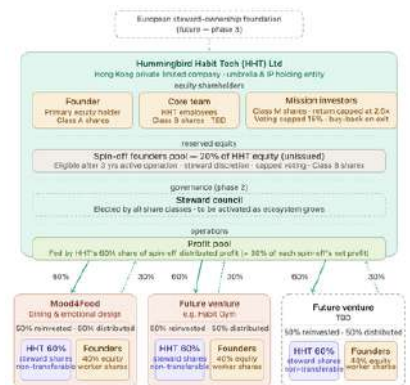

Each venture generates its own revenue. Each one also strengthens every other. This is what makes the ecosystem model fundamentally different from a portfolio of separate businesses.

act VI - steward ownership governed by the HHT legal structure · mission-protected

HHT will be initially incorporated as a Hong Kong private limited company — the operational and IP-holding entity for the entire ecosystem, designed to protect the mission as it scales.

Annual profit pool distribution

Accumulated pool (100%)
30% of each spin-off's net profit

10% — spin-off founders
Split equally at year end after year 1

40% — ecosystem support
Loans to struggling ventures + redemption reserve

50% — retained by HHT
Reserves + HHT R&D benefits all spin-offs

Management fee — separate operational mechanism

One-time onboarding fee (USD 5-15k) on joining · covers IP licensing, brand, systems & setup Annual ecosystem fee: 5-10% of net profit · payable in profitable years only

act VII - how to join us

INVEST IN THE MISSION

mission-aligned impact investment.
meaningful returns. built to last.

JOIN THE ECOSYSTEM

become a member, coach, or co-living resident.

PARTNER WITH US

co-develop a BI-designed space, concept, or community.

a world where every space you enter, every meal you share, every product you use, is designed to help you flourish.

Not as an optional add-on. Not as a wellness feature. As the default architecture of daily life.

Dr. Ting Jiang · Founder & CEO
ting@hummingbirdhabit.com

Jonathan Klodt · CSO
jonathan@hummingbirdhabit.com

hummingbirdhabit.com · pairadise.com